

Forensics, Valuation & Litigation Support Matrimonial Group

Divorce is a challenging and emotionally charged experience with financial implications that are often life-altering. At DLA, our team works closely with attorneys and clients to resolve divorce-related financial disputes, offering an experienced, sound, and cost-effective alternative to larger, less personalized firms. When you partner with us, you get innovative strategies, deep expertise, and a level of attention that is unrivaled in the industry.

Our areas of matrimonial support expertise include:

Business valuations

Get an accurate and defensible assessment of a company's worth that holds up to meticulous scrutiny from a team of seasoned professionals with specialized training and advanced expertise in accounting, finance, and valuation.

Income, marital net worth, and lifestyle analyses

Our forensic accountants will help you calculate income to determine support obligations, assess marital net worth for equitable asset division, and analyze historical spending for fair alimony settlements.

Asset tracking and documentation

We will meticulously track and document financial dealings and asset histories to facilitate a reasonable and equitable division of matrimonial assets, ensuring transparency and accuracy.

Tax planning and after-tax alimony scenario calculations

Our team of strategic tax planning experts will help you understand the tax implications of even the most complex divorce settlements and ensure the agreed-upon alimony reflects the true financial picture after taxes.

Settlement proposal development

We will consult with counsel to help ensure a fair and equitable division of assets and develop strategies aimed at securing favorable outcomes for all parties involved.

Mediation and settlement conference support and trial expert witness testimony

We provide consultation services for mediation and settlement conferences to help ensure a swift and reasonable conclusion. We also offer expert witness testimony services to bolster your case in legal proceedings.
